1 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a hearing will be held at the above-referenced date, time
2 and location for the Court to consider approval of this motion (the “Motion”) filed by Homejoy
3 (Assignment for the Benefit of Creditors) LLC, a California limited liability company, chapter 4 11 debtor and debtor in possession in the above-captioned, chapter 11 bankruptcy case (the 5 “Debtor”), for (1) approval of the Settlement Agreement and Mutual Release which is attached
6 as Exhibit “1” to the annexed Declaration of Tim J. Cox (the “Stipulation”), and (2) authority to 7 limit the notice of this Motion in accordance with Federal Bankruptcy Rule 2002(i). The details
8 of the Stipulation are set forth below in the annexed Memorandum of Points and Authorities.

9
10 The Stipulation accomplishes two very important things which will assist the Debtor to 11 bring this chapter 11 bankruptcy case to conclusion. First, the Stipulation brings an end to what 12 has become an expensive and time-consuming investigation by the Official Committee of 13 Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) of transactions and business dealings involving Google
14 Inc. Two, the Stipulation eliminates a claim of more than $18 million claim against this estate, 15 which is a necessary component to enable the Debtor to confirm a plan of reorganization with the 16 support of the Committee. The Debtor believes that entering into the Stipulation is in the best 17 interests of this estate.
18

19 WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant this Motion and 20 approve the Stipulation.

2 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

3 I.

4 CASE BACKGROUND

5 The Debtor is the Assignee and special purpose entity formed by Sherwood Management, 6 LLC ("Sherwood Management") for the assignment for the benefit of creditors ("ABC") of 7 Homejoy, Inc. ("Homejoy"), which ABC went effective on August 5, 2015. Sherwood
8 Management is wholly-owned by Sherwood Partners, Inc. ("Sherwood"). Sherwood
9 Management is the sole member of the Debtor.
10

11 Prior to the ABC, Homejoy was primarily in the business of providing an on-line 12 database and directory for consumers to find and hire home cleaning and janitorial services, with 13 its office located at San Francisco, California.
14

15 Prior to the ABC, in mid-July 2015, Google Inc. entered into an agreement regarding 16 certain Homejoy employees moving to Google Inc. (the "Google Agreement").

17 In response to the notice from the Assignee, on or about October 5, 2015, Google
18 Ventures 2013, L.P. and Google Ventures 2015, L.P. (collectively "GV") filed a proof of claim
19 in the ABC in the amount of $18,073,911.41 (the "GV Claim").
20

21 The Debtor filed a voluntary petition under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code on 22 December 15, 2015 bearing Case No. 15-53931 (the "Bankruptcy Case") in the United States
23 Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California, San Jose Division (the "Bankruptcy
24 Court"). The Committee was formed on February 1, 2016.

25 Subsequent to the Debtor's bankruptcy filing, the Debtor, with the consent of the 26 Committee, obtained the approval of the Bankruptcy Court to treat timely filed claims in the 27 ABC as if they were timely filed claims in the Bankruptcy Case to avoid claim holders from 28

1 having to file duplicative claims. See Docket Nos. 78 and 79. GV did not file a claim in the 2 Bankruptcy Case but as a result of the foregoing, the GV Claim is deemed to have been filed in 3 the Bankruptcy Case.

4 On December 13, 2016, the Bankruptcy Court issued the Order Authorizing Examination
5 of and Production of Documents by Google Inc. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 2004 and 6 7030(b)(6) [Docket No. 144] (the “2004 Order”).

7
8 On March 8, 2017, Google Inc. filed the Motion to Quash the 2004 Order [Docket No.
9 181] (the “Motion to Quash”). Following subsequent pleadings by the Committee and Google
10 Inc. and a hearing before the Bankruptcy Court on April, 27, 2017, the Motion to Quash remains 11 pending before the Bankruptcy Court.

12 Completely unrelated to the 2004 Order and the Motion to Quash, on March 1, 2017, the 13 Debtor filed a lawsuit in the Bankruptcy Court seeking the disallowance of certain proofs of 14 claim and for declaratory relief regarding whether a multitude of filed claims by various service
15 provider class oriented lawsuits and by various taxing agencies (the “Lawsuit”). The Debtor
16 filed the Lawsuit because approximately 17 months into this chapter 11 case, the Debtor
17 concluded that a settlement or adjudication of the Lawsuit was the only way to bring this chapter 18 11 case to conclusion, given that the various claimants have asserted hundreds of millions of 19 dollars of claims and there is limited funds in this estate available to pay to creditors.
20

21 In an effort to minimize the incurrence of legal fees, the Debtor and the various 22 defendants stipulated to continue answer dates, etc. On May 1, 2017, the Debtor’s bankruptcy 23 counsel hosted a preliminary settlement conference with counsel for many of the defendants in 24 the Lawsuit. That conference appears to have been an important step in an effort to try to bring 25 this chapter 11 case to a swift conclusion, with the minimum amount of attorneys fees incurred.
26 The defendants understand that there is a small amount of money in this case relative to the 27
28

1 amount of claims asserted by the defendants, and that any consensual resolution is going to
2 require creditors to accept significant discounts on their claim payments. While not a defendant
3 to the Lawsuit, the Committee is nevertheless an important constituent in this case, and the 4 Committee advised the Debtor that in order for the Committee to consider supporting the general
5 terms of the global resolution being discussed, there had to be an elimination of the GV Claim
6 given its magnitude relative to the balance of the general unsecured debt.
7

8 The Stipulation therefore accomplishes two very important things relative to the Debtor's 9 efforts to confirm a fully consensual plan of reorganization in the near future. First, the 10 Stipulation brings an end to what has become an expensive and time-consuming investigation of 11 Google by the Committee and thereby ceases the incurrence of continued legal fees by the estate
12 in that regard. Two, the Stipulation eliminates the GV Claim, thereby helping to pave the way
13 for the Committee to support a global resolution of this case.
14

15 II.

16 SUMMARY OF THE SUBSTANTIVE TERMS OF THE STIPULATION

17 The following is a summary of the salient terms of the Stipulation:

18 Upon the entry by the Bankruptcy Court of a final and non-appealable order granting this 19 Motion and approving the Stipulation (the "Bankruptcy Court Approval Order"), the GV Claim
20 shall be deemed automatically withdrawn with prejudice without the need for any further order
21 of the Bankruptcy Court or action taken by GV. In addition, Google Inc. agrees that Google
22 Inc., GV and any of its affiliates (collectively, "Google") shall not receive any distribution from 23 either the ABC estate or the Bankruptcy Case estate on account of the GV Claim or otherwise.
24 (See paragraph 3 of the Stipulation).
25

26 Upon the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Approval Order, the 2004 Order and the Motion
27 to Quash shall be deemed automatically vacated. The Debtor and the Committee shall be forever
28

1 barred from conducting or seeking to conduct any further examination or any request for 2 production of documents from Google. The Committee shall promptly file with the Bankruptcy
3 Court a request to vacate the 2004 Order, and Google Inc. shall promptly file with the 4 Bankruptcy Court a withdrawal of the Motion to Quash without prejudice. (See paragraph 4 of 5 the Stipulation).

6
7 Following the execution of the Stipulation by all of the Parties, the Committee and 8 Google Inc. shall cooperate with each other to stay the hearing on the Motion to Quash pending
9 the Bankruptcy Court's approval of this Agreement and entry of the Bankruptcy Court Approval
10 Order. (See paragraph 5 of the Stipulation).

11 Subject only to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Approval Order by the Bankruptcy
12 Court, the Debtor and the Committee provide a complete release to Google, etc. (See paragraph 13 6 of the Stipulation).

14
15 Subject only to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Approval Order by the Bankruptcy
16 Court, Google provides a complete release to the Debtor and the Committee, etc. (See paragraph 17 7 of the Stipulation).

18 III.

19 DISCUSSION

20 The Debtor Requests the Court to Approve the Stipulation

21
22 The authority granted the Debtor to compromise a controversy or agree to a settlement is 23 set forth in Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), which provides in pertinent part that "[o]n motion by the 24 [debtor in possession] and after hearing on notice to creditors ..., the court may approve a 25 compromise or settlement." The decision of whether a compromise should be accepted or 26 rejected lies within the sound discretion of the Court. In re Carson, 82 B.R. 847, 852 (Bankr.
27 S.D. Ohio 1987; In re Hydronic Enterprise, Inc., 58 B.R. 363, 365 (Bankr. D. R.I. 1986); In re 28

1 Mobile Air Drilling Co., Inc., 53 B.R. 605, 607 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 1985); Knowles v.
2 Putterbaugh (In re Hallet), 33 B.R. 564, 565 (Bankr. D. Me. 1983).

3 The Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has long recognized that "[t]he bankruptcy
4 court has great latitude in approving compromise agreements." Woodson v. Fireman's Fund Ins.
5 Co. (In re Woodson), 839 F.2d 610, 620 (9th Cir. 1988). "The purpose of a compromise 6 agreement is to allow the [debtor in possession] and the creditors to avoid the expenses and 7 burdens associated with litigating sharply contested and dubious claims." Martin v. Kane (In re
8 A & C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1380-81 (9th Cir. 1986), cert. denied 479 U.S. 854 (1986).
9 Accordingly, in approving a settlement agreement, the Court need not conduct an exhaustive
10 investigation of the claims sought to be compromised. See United States v. Alaska National 11 Bank (In re Walsh Constr., Inc.), 669 F.2d 1325, 1328 (9th Cir. 1982). Rather, it is sufficient 12 that the Court find that the settlement was negotiated in good faith and is reasonable, fair, and 13 equitable. See In re A & C Properties, supra, 784 F.2d at 1381.
14
15

16 The Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has identified the following factors for 17 consideration in determining whether a proposed settlement agreement is reasonable, fair, and 18 equitable:

- 19 (a) the probability of success in the litigation;
20 (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
21 (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience, and 22 delay necessarily attending it; and
23 (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable
24 views in the premises.
25

26 In re A & C Properties, supra, 784 F.2d at 1381 (the "A & C Factors").
27
28

1 A court should not substitute its own judgment for the judgment of the trustee or the 2 debtor in possession. Matter of Carla Leather, Inc., 44 B.R. 457, 465 (Bankr. S.D. N.Y. 1984).
3 A court, in reviewing a proposed settlement, is not to decide the numerous questions of law and 4 fact but rather to canvass the issues to determine whether the settlement falls below the lowest
5 point in the range of reasonableness. In re W.T. Grant & Co., 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2nd Cir. 1983),
6 accord, Newman v. Stein, 464 F.2d 689, 693 (2nd Cir. 1972). The court should not conduct a
7 “mini-trial” on the merits of the underlying cause of action. Matter of Walsh Const., Inc., 669
8 F.2d 1325, 1328 (9th Cir. 1982); In re Blair, 538 F.2d 849 (9th Cir. 1976). It is well established
9 that compromises are favored in bankruptcy." In re Lee Way Holding Co., 120 B.R. 881, 891
10 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1990).
11

12 The Debtor submits that the Stipulation is reasonable, fair and equitable and is in the best
13 interest of the Debtor’s bankruptcy estate. A review of the A & C Factors supports Court
14 approval of the Stipulation as follows:
15

16 (a) The probability of success in the litigation.

17 There is no litigation pending, and the Debtor did not identify any known causes of action
18 against Google in its bankruptcy schedules. The Debtor is not aware of any causes of action 19 against Google. The Debtor understands that the Committee was attempting to proceed with the 20 2004 Order in an effort to obtain information to identify potential causes of action. As a result, 21 the Debtor submits that this prong of the A & C Factors is either irrelevant or has been satisfied.
22

23 (b) The difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection.

24 Since the matter of collection is not at issue here, this prong of the A & C Factors is not 25 relevant.

26 (c) The complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience, and 27 delay necessarily attending it.
28

1 As indicated, the only “litigation” involving Google occurring at this time is the dispute
2 between the Committee and Google Inc. over the 2004 Order and the Motion to Quash. The 3 bottom line is that this estate cannot afford to incur the continued legal fees attendant with the 4 Committee’s investigation without depleting the funds available to make distributions to 5 creditors. Google Inc. has vigorously contested the Committee’s standing even to proceed with 6 the 2004 Order, and the Debtor expects that Google Inc. will vigorously litigate any claims
7 brought against it by the estate, even if the Committee was able to prevail in the dispute
8 regarding the 2004 Order and identify any such claims, and even if the Committee was ultimately 9 able to prevail in the dispute regarding the 2004 Order and identify any such claims. This is an 10 investigation/litigation path that this estate simply cannot afford.

11
12 (d) The paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable
13 views in the premises.
14

15 The paramount interest of the creditors of this estate is served by the waiver of the GV
16 Claim. The GV Claim is much larger than many of the other claims asserted against the estate
17 and withdrawing it would permit larger distributions to other creditors. Waiver of the GV Claim 18 also benefits creditors because it would obviate the need for the estate to further evaluate and 19 potentially object to the GV Claim. The Committee supports the waiver of the GV Claim.

20 The Debtor Requests the Court to Authorize a Limited Notice of this Motion

21 Federal Bankruptcy Rule 2002(i) provides the Court with the power to order that notices 22 required by, among others, Federal Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(3) (i.e., hearings on approval of 23 compromises or settlements of a controversy) be served upon only the United States Trustee, the 24 Committee and those parties who have filed a request for special notice. Given that (i) there are 25 hundreds of asserted claim holders in this case and limited funds available for distribution to 26 creditors, and (ii) the interests of the general unsecured creditors are well represented by an active
27 Committee that has employed talented counsel and which is a party to the Stipulation, the Debtor
28

1 respectfully submits that limiting notice of this Motion just to the United States Trustee, the 2 Committee and those parties who have filed a request for special notice is warranted and 3 appropriate.

4 Based upon all of the foregoing, the Debtor respectfully submits that all of the A & C
5 Factors, to the extent applicable, have been satisfied, and that an appropriate basis exists for the 6 Court to grant this Motion and both approve the Stipulation and approve of the Debtor's limited
7 notice of this Motion.
